Creations by Justine

October 2009

Fall is here and we are busy getting ready for the holiday season -- can you believe that crazy-busy time of the year is just around the corner? Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and then New Year's Eve! We can see it now ... cocktail parties, dinners, gifts, wrapping, giving and going are in your future. Not to be left out, we wanted to fill you in on some of the fun we're having around here ... AND, we want you to come see us!

We've created more studio and gallery space by separating them into two locations ... happily, all in the same building! Our fabulously spacious new studio is coming together – Justine, Guy, Chris, Melissa and all clay goddesses-in-the-making are working in the space just down the hallway, last door on the left. We're here everyday, so stop in and say hi!

PINK PASSIONISTA PARTY -- October 16th.

Question: What is a Pink Passionista?

Answer: Someone who is passionate about helping to eradicate Breast Cancer and gets all PINKED up for the Pink Passionsita Party!

If that's you, please join us for a deliciously PINK event to benefit the Susan G. Komen Foundation as we join together with Wilda! Women In Leadership Development Association in raising money to help find a cure for breast cancer.

What's included? Well, we want you to find out by coming on the 16th, but on the QT ... there have been a number of artists (including survivors) in and out of the studio over the past few weeks. Each one has been busy creating special and unique clay goddesses that will be up for auction the night of the event ... stop by to take a peek at what has been in and out of the Creations by Justine kiln! Other than that, what can I say?

Raffles, door prizes and an auction ... we are planning quite an event! Join us as we wear pink, think pink, drink pink, donate money for the cause, and bid on one-of-a-kind pink goddesses created by Justine and her clay-goddesses-in-the-making. Your minimum donation of $10 will grant you entrance into the event, two raffle tickets and an evening of fun. Additional raffle tickets may be purchased at the event.

For this event, Creations by Justine honors our own Pink Clay Goddess, the Divine Miss L, who is courageously fighting her battle, and pays homage to all those who have fought their own battle with this disease.

Contributions: Online donations can be made by going to www.passionatelypink.org. Please enter "Wilda!" in the company name. Melissa Lyons, our Business Development Consultant, is the Team Captain for this fundraiser. Checks should be made out the Komen Foundation, and can be written the day of the event or mailed to the Gallery. All proceeds of this event will go to the Susan G. Komen Foundation.
